CAL. FRUIT GROWERS EXCHANGE ISSUES ANNUAL REPORT TO ITS MEMBERS

SHIP 14,456 CARLOADS ORANGES AND GRAPEFRUIT AND 5777 OF LEMONS

Year's Crop Will Return $45,311,818 to Growers in California. Twenty Per Cent Crop of Navel for Past Year.

Shipments of oranges and grapefruit from California for the year ending August 31, 1918, were 14,456 carloads and of lemons 5777 carloads, making a total of 25,233 carloads—according to the annual report of E. G. Dezell, acting general manager of the California Fruit Growers Exchange. For the crop year the total shipments will figure about 33 per cent of the previous season. The shortage was due to the extreme hot weather of June, 1917, and resulted in extremely high prices being paid for the limited supply. Based on the Exchange's results, this year's citrus crop will return $47,311,818 to California.

Segregated, the figures on the past year's shipments show a 20 per cent crop of navel oranges, 47 per cent of a normal Valencia orange crop, 70 per cent of a normal yield of miscellaneous varieties, and 71 per cent of a normal lemon crop.

The California Fruit Growers Exchange, according to Mr. Dezell's report, handled 76 per cent of the shipments from the state. This is the largest percentage in recent years. The Exchange is a cooperative organization of 8500 growers, who operate it at cost as a clearing house for their products. A remarkable record was revealed in the statement that "not a cent was lost during the year from uncollected bills, failures in business, or the transmission of funds," and while the Exchange in the last fifteen years has done a business of $262,000,000, "the losses during that period from bad debts and all other causes have been less than $8000 or about 8-1000 of one per cent." The total average cost of the central and district Exchange marketing service was 6 1/2 cents a box, or 1 1/4 per cent of the gross sales. In addition the Exchange has invested two cents per box on oranges, and four cents per box on lemons for advertising the Sunkist brand, and keeping the delicious, healthful and useful qualities of California citrus fruits before the public.

"The results," says the report in referring to the extremely light crop and the costs of operation, "show the elasticity of the organization and its ability to meet unusual crop conditions without impairing its efficiency."

With reference to lemons, the report notes that the production in California increased 282 per cent in the fifteen years ending August 31, 1917, and 45 per cent in the last five years. The young, non-bearing acreage is sufficient to increase the lemon yield 75 per cent when the new acreage comes into bearing. California will then be able not only to supply the full demand of the United States and Canada, but the consumption of lemons will need to be increased to absorb the domestic crop. The growers are depending upon "intensive and consistent advertising to increase the demand to take care of the increased production in sight."

The normal crop of Valencia is now substantially one-half as large as the navel orange crop, and double what it was seven years ago. The report predicts that within a few years the crop of Valencia will equal that of navel, which is normally about 33,000 carloads.

During the season the traffic department of the Exchange collected 10,138 railroad claims aggregating $211,475.11. The Fruit Growers Supply company handled a business of $3,532,500 in supplies of Exchange members. A separate company is being organized by Exchange shippers to manufacture low grade oranges and grapefruit into marmalade.

"They were throwing real rice at the newlyweds."

CHAFFEY UNION TO OPEN SEPTEMBER 12

The school year opens at Chaffey Union on September 12, when the first meeting occurs. Registration of adults and Junior College students takes place Friday, September 13. It is a serious problem with a good many as to whether they should continue their schooling at this time. But there was never a time before when the need of further education seemed so real. The patriotic DUTY of every boy and girl is to secure the best education possible NOW, for the country is calling for trained men and women, and at the same time it is asking young people to stay at school until the government wants to use them in special positions. President Wilson has recently urged the schools to meet the present situation nationally by saying: "There should be no falling off in attendance in elementary schools, in high schools or colleges," for this affects "both our strength in war and our national welfare and efficiency when the war is over. So long as the war continues there will be constant need of very large numbers of men and women of the highest and most thorough training for war service in many lines. After the war there will be urgent need not only for trained leadership in all lines of industrial, commercial, social and civic life, but for a very high average of intelligence and preparation on the part of all people."

Students should not drop out of school now, but should return to Chaffey with a determination to do better than ever before. Young men of draft age will be given special attention and they should enter school if only for a few months. "Hurry-up" courses will be given where young men want special advantages. Drop in at the office any afternoon and talk the matter over.

HAD NOTHING ON HIM

"See the spider, my son, spinning its web," said the instructive parent to his small son. "Is it not wonderful? Do you reflect that no man could spin that web, no matter how hard he might try?"

"Well, what of it?" replied the up-to-date offspring. "Watch me spin this top. No spider can do that, no matter how hard he might try."

UPLAND BAND ENTERTAINS AVIATORS

FIRST BAND CONCERT AT MARCH FIELD AND MEN APPRECIATE IT

Rev. Stone Says Visitors Are Welcome to Camp and Tells Best Time to Go. Room Furnished by Upland People.

Upland's band under the efficient direction of F. W. Wilding, Jr., was the entertaining feature at March Field Tuesday night, and that the boys of the camp appreciated the coming of the band was realized when the men who took the band to camp heard on every hand many expressions of appreciation. This was the first band concert the boys at the camp had enjoyed and their rounds of applause told that they were enjoying the music to the fullest.

A misunderstanding occurred as to how many people were wanted to accompany the band to the field and the insertion of an item in The News requesting people to leave their names at this office if they desired to go resulted in between 150 and 200 signifying their desire to attend. The names were forwarded but on Tuesday morning came a message that the camp could not handle that many people at one time and the parties were notified to that effect.

In talking with Rev. Stone of the Y. M. C. A. at Camp March Tuesday night to said to a News representative:

"Don't let the people of Upland get the idea that we do not want them to visit the camp, for we do, but a trip up here at night would prove a disappointment to them as the regulations do not allow civilians in the hangars or about the machine shops and the camp generally. We want those two hundred people to visit the camp, but we shall have to take them a few at a time and the time to come is in the forenoon and any day except Saturday and Sunday, for on those days there is very little activity here. If possible drop me a line a day before coming stating what morning you will be here, and I will make the necessary arrangements for your entrance. If people from Upland are unable to drop me a line before coming, just have the gate man telephone to the Y. M. C. A. building to me, and I will see that you get in as quickly as possible thereafter."

The Y. M. C. A. building at March Field is developing into a most attractive spot and the room that has been taken in hand by the people of this city is going to be the attractive spot of the institution. The Woman's club of Upland has thus far provided important articles of furniture, adding a very homelike appearance to the reading room and library while a deer head contributed by Edw. Harwood and to be placed above the grate will be another attractive feature. Writing tables are placed about the entire building while the assembly room is equipped with a stage, and a moving picture machine with exhibitions two and three times a week adds greatly to the entertainment of the boys.

WRONG IMPRESSION SAYS SERG. GREGG

August 27, 1918.

Dear Friend Mr. Westland: I want to correct a couple of statements made in The News thru a misunderstanding. First, I have not been given a pilot's license, as it is not done in the army, and, second, the paper stating my flying time was sent home by myself. I do not want people to think I am trying to make myself out a hero, so if you will kindly change the statement I will be very thankful.

I have been placed on flying status as a sergeant and I expect to go to instructing soon. My work has been with Mr. Keller, a civilian, who tests all ships, and through him I learned to fly. Thanking you again, I remain,

Yours very truly,
SERGT. LEROY B. GREGG.

Dear Editor:—The following article will be considered good news by the citizens of this community in that it uncovers and exposes an attempt to Germanize this state by removing a part of our constitution and substituting a commission with autocratic powers. I am,

Yours very truly,
HARRY C. MEEK.

The Compulsory Social Insurance Amendment

"A wolf in sheep's clothing" is lying in wait on the ballot this fall in the form of a proposed constitutional amendment, No. 20, called compulsory social insurance. If the wolf is not detected by the electors' NO it will be long spring at our throats by divesting us of every liberty now guaranteed to us by the constitution.

So-called social uplifters, also known as "the Hun in California's back door yard," seek to disrupt the constitution. They say it is moth-eaten, that it is mere mush, "scraps of paper," etc. They are guided and led by Dr. L. M. Rubinow, a Russian physician, educated in Germany, who was brought to this state by the social insurance commission at a salary of $600 per month and expenses, to foist the German idea upon the people of California.

Just recently the chairman of the social insurance commission, speaking before a Los Angeles audience, came out flat-footed and stated, "You may or may not, have any more reverence for the constitution of the state of California than I have—I confess to have little." This sowing of the seeds of disrupting thought was bad enough, but it is mere bazaar.

ATWOOD LAUNCHES BIG SALE ON FRIDAY

Commencing tomorrow morning at 9 o'clock the mammoth stock reducing sale of the J. J. Atwood company will be on its way with the greatest array of war-time bargains offered in this city in many a day.

In talking with J. J. Atwood, head of Upland's biggest mercantile establishment, he stated:

"With the unsettled conditions, due to the war, it is hard to judge correctly on just how much merchandise to buy. We did not judge correctly and as a result find it necessary to reduce our stock and turn it into money. This being the case, it gives the people of Upland and vicinity a chance to save money, for as things generally are advancing in price a clearance sale with such prices as we are quoting for the next week is almost unheard of."

The sale closes on Saturday, September 14, and another page of this issue will be found an advertisement setting forth the details of the sale.

"TOMMY'S WIFE" TOMORROW NIGHT

LOCAL ARTISTS WILL GIVE PLAY FOR BENEFIT OF RED CROSS

Three-Act Play and Vaudeville Sketches on the Program. Jazz Quartet Will Be One of Main Features of Evening.

Tomorrow night at the Upland grammar school local talent will stage the play "Tommy's Wife," the proceeds to go to the benefit of the local Red Cross. Added attractions to the play will be vaudeville acts by local artists.

Between the first and second acts Betty Jane Gilmore, the talented little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Gilmore, will sing and dance. Little Miss Gilmore is one of the most talented children in the colony.

Between acts 2 and 3 the jazz quartet will be in charge and when we know that the quartet is composed of such artists as John D. Howe, Allen O'Hara, Wallace Tate, and Harry Wright, we say "nuff sed," bring on your quartet.

Wilding's orchestra will open the program, after which the three-act farce, "Tommy's Wife," will be presented. The cast of characters follows:

Thomas Pittmore Carothers, promising young artist, Frederick Trunkfield.

Roe Carothers, "his sister," Janet Stone.

Dick Griggs, Glenn Atwood.

Patty Campbell, Marjorie Reynolds.

Mrs. De Yarborough-Smith, Mrs. Kirk Vernon.

Sylvia, Beatrice Smith.

Pierre De Bouton, the French fencing master.

Edith Bronson, Mrs. J. Lynward Graham.

WM. S. HART AT THE COLONIAL TONIGHT

Tonight's attraction at the Colonial theatre is to be William S. Hart in "Shark Monroe," and as Hart has a host of admirers here a big crowd will greet him in his wonderful play of the frozen north.

For Saturday night, September 7, Wallace Reid appears in "Believe Me, Xantippe."

As a man of varied accomplishments, it is safe to say that Wallace Reid has no equal on the screen. He has done everything that scenario writers can think of—and some that he thought of himself—including falls, dives, and even a female impersonation with John Bunny in the early part of his screen career. It was during the filming of the "Lost House," one of his earlier productions, that he was required to jump from the third story of a burning building into a life net. As he was falling, one of the men holding the net tripped over a hose, while another misguided person turned a full stream of water upon Reid with the result that he hit on the edge of the net and was laid up for a month with a badly dislocated hip. Another big scene that Reid did was the great saloon fight in "The Clansman," in which Reid and the men fought all day. Over twenty-five hundred feet of film were taken of this scene.

Next Tuesday night's attraction will be "The World for Sale," directed by J. Stuart Blackton and taken from the novel by Sir Gilbert Parker.

On Thursday night, September 12, Monroe Salisbury not only appears here on the screen but will be here in person to relate some of his experiences in picture making. Mr. Salisbury will be the first famous picture star to appear here in person.

Mr. Myers of the Colonial requests the News to state that if there are any here who contemplate joining his violin class they should confer with him within the next few days.

CO. SUPERVISORS REDUCE TAX RATE AND ISSUE ORDERS FOR RETRENCHMENT

MANY DEPUTIES DROPPED AS RESULT OF ACTION BY SUPERVISORS

County Taxes Put on Basis That Conforms to War Times. Over $200,000 Slashed from Budget Last Tuesday.

The board of supervisors Tuesday made good their pledge to the people, slashed more than $200,000 from the budget figures submitted by departments, met the $53,000 loss by reason of the halting of the reimbursement from the state, reduced the force in most offices, gave the remaining deputies a living wage and cut the tax rate from $1.96 to $1.80—a reduction of 16 cents. The loss of the usual $53,000 from the state means that the supervisors should have credit for a 27 cents cut, for 11 cents had to be included to raise the money formerly provided by the state.

"The county expenses next year will be cut to the bone," said Supervisor R. L. Riley, "and the public must bear with us in the omission of some things we would like to have in normal times. We take it the public wants a lighter tax burden."

In the retrenchment in the number of deputies, the supervisors swept through most of the offices, and trimmed a total of $10,320 from the annual office pay roll. Here are the offices concerned:

One deputy and special investigator eliminated in district attorney's office, $2,700; one deputy in sheriff's office, $1,200; one deputy in auditor's office, $1,200; one deputy in tax collector's office, $1,200; special deputies for recopying records in recorder's office, $1,800; assistant highway commissioner and stenographer in highway commissioner's office, $2,220.

These cuts will be made as rapidly as the heads of departments can readjust their work. Some of them will become effective today. In the district attorney's office, District Attorney Duckworth has the option of eliminating one deputy or cutting $1200 from his expenses for the detection of crime.

To provide a living wage for the remaining deputies and prevent them going to other concerns, the scale of pay which is higher than the county, a flat increase of 15 per cent was ordered for all deputies drawing $100 a month or less. R. H. Mack, secretary of the board of supervisors, was increased from $125 to $150. C. E. Hammer, chief deputy in the auditor's office, was increased from $100 to $125. S. F. Kelley, sealer of weights and measures, was increased to $150 a month, the scale provided by general law for that office.

Rate Outside Cities

Outside of cities, the county tax rate will be $215—road rate of 35 cents added to the county rate of $1.80. Last year the outside rate was $2.31. Points which have the county free library will pay an additional 3 1/2 cents, or $2.185 for points outside of cities.

The rate this year inside cities is 16 cents less than last year, and 4 cents less than two years ago, five cents more than three years ago, and 37 cents more than four years ago.

School board rates set included: Colton $1.90; Rialto .60; Highland 25; Mission 40; Bloomington .80; Redlands $1.30; Needles $1.30; Ontario $1.75; Upland $2.10; Victorville $1.20.

Supervisor Jeff Kincaid asked for an appropriation of $15,000 to apply on the paving of Turner avenue, Cucamonga, and the other four supervisors voted no, declaring this was no time for expensive paving. Kincaid voted against the new scale in the offices.

The complete budget by departments called for $1,048,034.35. The supervisors slashed it to $840,476.35, including school money, bond money, and all other funds.

The tax rate was based on an assessment of $46,869,795. Last year's assessment was $44,197,155.

Salute to the Flag

"I pledge allegiance to the American Flag;
And the Republic for which it stands;
One Nation, indivisible,
With Liberty and Justice for all."

THE Paris Symphony Orchestra, it is announced, is to give fifty concerts in leading American cities, beginning next October. Perhaps there are music lovers in the United States to whom music is the same whether it is produced by an enemy or a friend, but it is fair to presume that the great majority feel otherwise about it. It has not been possible for Americans generally during the last year or so, to extract real satisfaction from a symphony orchestra concert while keeping one suspicious eye on the leader and another on the bass viol player, and at the same time wondering whether the clarinetist and the first cornetist were not exchanging signals while pretending to be rapt in the ecstasies of German melody.—Christian Science Monitor.

THREE years ago there were those who objected to the inauguration of popular extension courses under the auspices of the State Board of Education. It was their conviction that Massachusetts, with its innumerable colleges and its elaborate system of free public instruction, had no reason to adopt the methods found necessary and desirable in the newer states of the Middle West. They even asked themselves whether there was really a demand for such courses. These skeptics now have their answer. In the two years that extension work has been in operation the classes have been attended by more than 7000 students and they would have been attended by a still larger number if the funds available had been large enough to allow the board of education to give free rein to its plans. For the most part the courses which had a direct relation to a definite trade naturally carried the strongest appeal, but it must not be forgotten that English was the subject which led all the others in popularity. If the extension system had done nothing more than give some thousands of our citizens a better knowledge of our language it would still have to be adjudged a success. It is an agency of Americanization and as such should be heartily supported.—Boston Evening Transcript.

NOT uncommon remark nowadays is that we have no great war governors. The implication is that in waging war we have become so far federalized that the states are merely convenient geographical divisions for applying national measures. We certainly have no state executives who loom up now as Curtin of Pennsylvania, Morgan of New York, Yates of Illinois, and Andrew of Massachusetts did in the Civil War. Then the governors were responsible for filling up the state quotas in the national army; they issued their proclamations, raised their recruits, and in many cases equipped their regiments. Our militia having now been federalized, the draft having been applied at once, and the army so unified that no one would think of fastening a state label upon any command, the governors have virtually no military functions. Yet the state executives are not therefore negligible in war. But the state councils of defense have been almost indispensable. Secretary Baker has just reported on their work with the comment that "it is difficult to estimate the importance of the service rendered" by them, and President Wilson has acknowledged the report with praise of the same tenor. The councils might well be called the war governors of today. They focus the war activities of the separate states as did the governors 60 years ago.—New York Evening Post.

GO by the map rather than by the headlines. One may agree with expert military opinion that recent operations in France have been fully as important as the First Battle of the Marne, which saved France and the Ally cause. But the First Battle of the Marne occurred nearly four years ago. One may entertain no doubt that the tide has definitely turned; but the tide was in flood for forty-eight months. Its ebbing may be a very long process.

We make these remarks because every now and then we meet some one who believes that this German reverse must bring peace the current year. There is no warrant at this writing for such an opinion, and there is no doubt that a belief in near-by peace tends to relaxation. It is human to look ahead, and if we think we are looking at peace three months off we let down a bit. That would be a play into the hands of Germany if it turned out that peace was nearer to three years off than three months.

The map shows that the German armies have given up some French territory. Measure what they have given up by the extent of territory that still separates them from the Rhine, and base your plans on that.

We believe it would be a shocking mistake to encourage any idea that the end of the war is definitely in sight. Every plan now laid and every motion now made in the United States should be shaped by the strong probability that American soldiers will be fighting in Europe one year from this date—twice as many as are there now, and fighting twice as hard.

Those American soldiers are making the name of the United States shine with a new luster before the world. They are splendidly justifying our faith and pride in our country. The next Liberty Loan drive is only a month away. When it comes time to subscribe see that you—just individually you—prove worthy to be fought and died for. Do your part as they are doing theirs.—Saturday Evening Post.

Our Boys Working With Uncle Sam

Edited by O. E. ATWOOD, of the J. J. Atwood Co.

Tuesday of this week the Upland suits were splendid. A few of those Concert Band and a large number now sending the paper to others of friends went from Upland to Reed, Mrs. A. N. Monroe, Mrs. H. C. Meek, Edna Purvis of San Bernardino, W. F. Kitchel, Mrs. S. J. Claughner, Mrs. M. Harnly, Mrs. W. W. Phipps, Dr. Kankel, H. B. Taylor, the Upland Volunteer Fire Department, and Mrs. George L. Winter. The following letter is from Clifton Cunningham, to whom Mrs. Winter sends her News:

U. S. S. Frederick, Aug. 22, 1918.
Mrs. George L. Winter, Upland, Cal.

Dear Friend:—Received your letter and also the Upland News which I enjoy reading very much; it keeps me posted with the daily happenings at home. And I want to thank you for your trouble. Mr. Atwood is doing some very fine work. It has been quite a long time since I have been in Upland, but my mother lives there now, on Laurel street. We have an orange ranch up in the mouth of San Antonio canyon, just above the end of the car line; perhaps you know where that is at.

I enlisted in the navy in 1916 during the Mexican trouble and spent six months down there. I have only seven months to do now until I get paid off, and will then re-enlist for the period of the war.

Yes, we are doing convoy duty and have been for some time; when we go to sea we spend about 30 days at a time which, sometimes, is not a very pleasant trip; but a person cannot have his choice now.

The part that I play in the navy is as a radio electrician. I suppose you know what that is; if not, I will try to explain it to you. The wireless is used very much for the safety of our convoy, and of our own ship; in receiving messages from ships in distress and other ships sighting submarines which may be on our course. There are four operators on board and I am one. I like the work fine and only wish that I could learn more about it. Will close for this time as I have some work to do.

Your Upland friend,
CLIFTON R. CUNNINGHAM.

SHE SHOWED THEM!
She had on a very short skirt and the wind was blowing. As "she" started to cross the street she noted a little group of men at the corner. "The horrid creatures!" she cried. "I'll show them!" And she did!

Etiwanda

Happenings Here and There Gathered by a News Special Representative in and About the Famous Etiwanda Colony

When the lightning began to play over the heavens and the thunder began muttering almost incessantly on Friday evening, the committees in charge of the "Photograft Album" and the various concessions connected therewith felt very much discouraged; but as eight o'clock neared the sky cleared, the electric lights "came on" again and everything went off as planned. Financially the affair was a great success and from the number of requests to repeat the evening's fun which have come in, the program seems to have been greatly enjoyed.

Mrs. C. W. Greenlee was the guest to whom the star performer of the evening, Miss Catherine Brownless, as a small girl, showed the family pictures. The stage had been made into an old-fashioned parlor. The two actors sat at the side on a couch, while at the back of the room, by means of wires which ran out to the sides, Rev. C. W. Greenlee and Mr. Fred Koch "turned over" the pages which showed the different lifelike pictures which Miss Catherine described from the album in her lap. Over forty pictures were shown, all of which were posed for by local people, though a number were so camouflaged that the audience hardly knew them. Mrs. Alice Hippard and Miss Isabel Smith who posed in men's parts in the absence of suitable men for the parts, escaped general recognition. Messrs. Henry Allen, W. E. E. Layton, Rev. Troyer, Robert Liddle, John Frost, Gerald Cour, Perry Orendorff, Dick Wood, Howard Frost, Jack Scott, Chas. Donnelly, Leo Falder, Curtis Smith, Morris Frost, Clyde Greenlee, Jr., Joshua and James Spray, Mrs. Hippard and Isabel Smith represented the male relatives of the Peters family while their female relations were represented by Mrs. Jack Scott, Mrs. J. D. Orendorff, Mrs. Mamie Cour, Hazel Cour, Dorothy Neece, Katherine Jones, Helen Burbank, Ethel Blythe, Marjorie Wood, Joy Fisher, Besie Troyer, Mrs. A. C. Smith, Mrs. Glen Shepherd.

The Christian Endeavorers made $17.75 for the program. Madames George E. Utman, George Frost and Marcus Kemp, who sold 15 gallons of ice cream for the benefit of the Ladies' Aid society cleared over $8 for their evening's work. Dorothy Brownless, Dorothy Spence and Marie Falder a committee from the Junior Red Cross, sold home-made molasses candy and took in $5.23 to buy material for the little girls to use at their regular Friday meetings.

Mrs. Herbert Price, who was to have taken one of the characters for the play Friday night, was unable to do so because she had injured one of her eyes the day before. With care she has recovered the use of it the first of this week.

Mrs. Thomas Donnelly gave a number of piano solos with Friday evening's program and Mrs. T. M. Neece sang "Kathleen Mavourneen." A number of young people remarked that they had never before heard it and did not know that any of the old songs were so beautiful.

Miss Lida Kemp returned Sunday from Santa Barbara where she has been attending summer school for several weeks. Miss Jeanette Stettler, of Portland, Ore., and Miss Sarah Belle Peeler, of Redondo, returned with her for a visit in the Kemp home. Miss Lida has been suffering from an insect bite on her chin, which became infected a week or more ago and has caused her considerable discomfort.

The ladies of the Red Cross are busy this week getting up an entertainment to be given Friday evening on the school grounds, the proceeds to be used in buying material for the Red Cross. There will be a program and a circus which will be free to all. Lemonade, popcorn and ice cream will be on sale throughout the evening. A cafeteria supper will be served and at a market both fresh and canned fruits and fresh vegetables will be on sale. A fish pond, a fortune telling booth and various side shows will collect revenue. It is hoped that there will be a large attendance, as the plans warrant an evening of fun.

Twenty-eight suits for boys and a dozen dresses for girls are being finished at the Red Cross sewing room, to be sent at once to orphan children abroad. The material, which was purchased by the local organization, cost over a hundred dollars. The work has been neatly done and the garments are a great credit to the ladies who are meeting twice weekly to complete them.

Mrs. Florence Fisher who is at the head of the knitting department of the Etiwanda Red Cross, made a trip to San Bernardino this week to turn in 90 pairs of finished hose, 28

Shamrock Club—

Dobbins and children, who are soon leaving for Riverside. Jollity and good cheer were marked features of the evening which the few drops of rain and the thunderstorm could not dampen. The guests in whose honor the supper was given were doubly appreciated and enjoyed when a word now and then brought to remembrance the fact of their speedy departure from among their Upland friends. Those who ate the picnic supper and more than one ice cream cone, were Mrs. D. E. Dobbins, Mrs. Ashman, Ruth Dobbins, Hugh Dobbins, Mrs. Joughin, Virginia Joughin, Rev. and Mrs. Stone, Ernest Stone, Mrs. Charles V. Barr, Mrs. Harlow S. APPRECIATES HOME SERVICE SECTION OF RED CROSS

A soldier overseas whose family received sorely needed assistance through the Home Service Section, American Red Cross, has written the San Francisco chapter the following appreciation: "I never fully realized the work you are doing until I received the letter from my wife telling me of the manner you had gone to her assistance. Without you she would have been helpless, for there was no one near to whom she could turn. When I received the news I spread it throughout the camp and many a boy here feels a thousand times better to know that there is some one back home fighting the battles for him and for his loved ones."

"The story will travel all 'over France," he adds, explaining that he is up for a commission and will be in a better position "to tell other men we have the greatest organization as big as the United States."

The Red Cross and the Iron Cross are two symbols that mark the elemental divisions of forces in the world war now raging—one, a cross that stands for humanity; the other, a cross that glorifies brute force and puts a premium on fendishness.

John Ward was out mowing the lawn one morning recently when something whizzed by his head and struck the screen about the porch. Later investigation resulted in the discovery of a bullet from a 22 rifle which went through the screen, struck the side of the house and then bounced over on top of a couch. Mr. Ward states that he has been getting a small taste of war right here at home, for recently while driving along the road a bullet struck the door of his car. They report a fine country up there and everything prosperous and flourishing, but still there is no place like "Home, Sweet Home," and they expect to return to their old home here at some future time.

The Cucamonga Vintage company is employing a large force of box makers for the shipments of grapes to the East. The men are boarding at the Golden State cannery cafeteria.

The Alta Loma Bridge club was very pleasantly entertained Tuesday afternoon at the home of Miss Gertrude Reid. The out-of-town guests were Mrs. C. W. Converse of Los Angeles and Mrs. Franklin Roth of Ontario.

Young Clarence Anglin, with his chum, Jewel Carmen, were enjoying a little spin on the motorcycle last Saturday evening when they had the with enough force to throw the riders spinning through the air. Anglin escaped with a few minor bruises, but his companion was not so fortunate, suffering a broken collar bone and today is traveling with his arm in a sling.

Mrs. Frank Credelle, formerly of South Turner avenue, and well known here, met with a peculiar, and for a time, serious accident last Sunday morning, when she tripped and fell against the sharp edge of the door, injuring her side and knocking her unconscious. The doctor was called, when the injured girl suffered one fainting spell after another, with inward bleeding, but on Monday was reported much better and her early recovery is looked for.

Mrs. H. H. Thomas, accompanied by her sister-in-law, Mrs. L. R. Thomas, made the trip in to Pasadena and return Tuesday, where she is delivering in 400-pound lots choice figs from the large crop grown on the Thomas ranch, to the Braden Preserving company, who are under contract with the U. S. government to furnish great quantities of delicious fig jam to be shipped to the soldiers. The jams are put up in the 2-pound tin cans, such as are used for canning corn, and is of excellent quality, as per samples. The same firm also manufactures preserves and strawberry jams, all of a sweetness, and very popular, especially with the children. The making of fig jam is quite a new undertaking, and also aids in conserving the fruit, and as sweets are exceedingly scarce in the trenches, it is thought the luscious fig jam will "touch just the right spot" with the Allied armies.

No Water Famine Here
Two local youths, Darrell Booth and Clarence Anglin, staged a little comedy at the Golden State cannery where they are employed, taking up a bet on a recent warm day as to how much of the pure "Adam's Ale" they could make away with and still live to tell the tale.

drank thirteen glasses of hydrant water apiece, or three full quarts each, and then to further startle the admiring natives gathered about at the cannery cafeteria, the boys started in on ice cream, rounding up the finish with two bottles of pop. They won!

Central school opens September 23 with the following corps of teachers: Miss Frances Hov, principal; Miss Viola S. Byers, intermediate; Miss Helen Lindley, primary.

Miss Margaret O'Connor, of Bloomington, will take the place of Miss Margaret Barry, while Miss Clara Taverner is the new instructor, from Los Angeles.

Big Grape Harvest
Local grape growers are anticipating one of the best years on record, the crop being of a very heavy yield and of extra fine quality, and to the satisfaction of all, have been ripening rapidly, due to the warm season so far. H. H. Thomas has harvested his entire holding of Sultana grapes, and the Cucamonga Vintage company is shipping two or three cars per day to the East, where the demand for grapes to crush is very strong.

The American Fruit Distributors are shipping grapes from the Benton Ballo properties on South Archibald and Vineyard avenue. Also from Collins station, South Turner avenue, grapes are being shipped to the East; altogether it is estimated that probably up to 300 cars or more will be shipped East from this district. The Italian Vineyard is crushing its own grapes. Thus it would look as though a considerable per cent of the crop was being shipped East, and yet the crop left will be ample to keep the local wineries busy for some time to come. Prospective prices are very good.

Another Red Cross Success
The Red Cross benefit and entertainment given by the local Women's Land Army last Saturday evening at the Central school proved to be another big drawing card, and the school grounds presented an animated scene, with the fifty little farmerettes in charge. Twenty-five cents, with an extra dime for parking the family auto, admitted one to all the various attractions. Many nickels and dimes rolled in to the palms of the ice cream cone vendors, while in the auditorium after mistfortune to crash into a wagon the splendid musical program provided by "the talent of the farmerettes," Miss Dorothy Duke, the great favorite, being heard in a number of beautiful vocal selections, and Miss Edythe Simpson in popular readings, and various other interesting numbers, the "live wire" auctioneer, Miss Alma Krause, took the floor, auctioning off the remaining articles left from the previous sale, and also many new things, among them being the lovely Red Cross quilt, made by the children of the Junior Red Cross of Central school, which fell to the highest bidder and brought $20. Over $40 was realized from the auction. Miss Lucille Thorsen again acted as announcer of events, also favoring with some of her splendid piano solos. As many of the farmerettes had left for their various homes that day, but few remained to take part in the program that evening, some of them returning from the city especially to do "her bit" for the local Red Cross.

The famous trained pony Frank was on exhibition and very much admired by all, children and grown-ups as well, when he made his knowing bow and grinned his "horse laugh." All in all, it was a very successful affair, and the Women's Land Army are to be congratulated on their glorious achievements for the cause of the great Red Cross. The entertainment netted the local chapter $78. The Women's Land Army, we thank you!

Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Converse are the house guests of their niece, Mrs. H. L. Salisbury.

Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Dziel enjoyed Sunday and Monday at Long Beach. Mr. and Mrs. Frank Allen of Los Angeles were week-end guests of their sister, Mrs. W. C. Belden. Monday they all enjoyed a trip to March Field at Riverside.

NOTICE

Commencing August 20th, the repair department of the Thomas Garage will enter on the Cash Basis. Charges per hour will be the same as formerly, but cash will be required on completion of the work.

In order to hold my workmen it is necessary to advance their wages and instead of raising the rate per hour on the customer, have decided to go on the Cash Basis in the repair department.

USE THESE SUGARLESS RECIPES AND HELP PUT THE HUNS ON THE RUN

Great war experts are telling us that if we put in all our available man-power and all our resources we can win this war by the end of 1919, instead of dragging it out over a period of several weary years.

The housewife has a share in conserving the resources of the country. The big question now in food conservation is sugar. We are asked not to use more than 6 level teaspoons of sugar per person a day for all purposes.

Our government has made a splendid effort to assist the housewife in using substitutes.

In California we are most fortunate in having Charlotte P. Ebbetts at the head of the Home Economics department. She has published some very fine recipes using substitutes for sugar, which we have been very glad to publish. Unfortunately, Karo is a scarce article in Upland at present, but other syrups can be used instead of Karo in the recipes.

1 cup shortening
1 cup corn syrup
1 egg
2-3 cup milk

1 cup barley flour

This recipe makes one loaf cake or two layer cakes.

HONEY BRAN COOKIES

2 tablespoons butters
1/2 cup honey

Toward the latter part of the evening Mrs. Donnelly invited the guests out under the trees in front of the house for a feast of watermelon. Present were Rev. C. W. Greenlee, Rev. and Mrs. Wm. Troyer and family, Robert Liddle, Mrs. Mamie Cour and daughters, Hazel and Dorothy, Mrs. Thos. Donnelly, Miss Nellie Fisher, Catherine Brownless and Isabel Smith.

CHANGE YOUR OLD RECIPES TO MEET NEW CONDITIONS

In place of one cup sugar use one cup of honey or 1 1/2 cups of corn syrup. Approximately the same sweetness is obtained. Every cup of syrup or honey furnishes 1/4 cup of liquid, therefore for every cup of syrup or honey that is substituted for sugar, reduce the original amount of liquid in the recipe 1/4 cup.

Besides the large number being taken out on trucks there have been two long lines of cars at the P. E. station for the past week, 29 cars going out during the week.

Is it possible for a man to commit a crime and elude the police for a year? The question has been answered in the affirmative on some occasions as the police records of large cities will prove, but when a girl with a shotgun takes a hand, there's a different story to tell, as Wallace Reid proves by his characterization of George MacFarland in his newest photoplay, "Believe Me, Xantippe."

CHICAGO AND RETURN BY AUTO

Editor Upland News:

We do not know whether a short account of our trip of a little over 8000 miles by auto will be of interest to your readers or not, but we will submit the same and if not you can consign it to the place of all waste paper.

We left Upland the last day of April going over the Santa Fe Trail to Williams, Arizona, where we left the trail and went up to the Grand Canyon, spending three days in the side trip and sightseeing. We returned by way of Flagstaff and continued our journey to Holbrook, where we turned south to Springerville on account of bad roads, going over the Ocean-to-Ocean highway to Socorro, New Mexico, where we turned south again following up the Rio Grande river to Albuquerque, thence to the historic old town of Santa Fe where we spent a short time, then to Las Vegas, Raton and over the Raton Pass to Trinidad, where we left the mountains following along the Crest Slope to Pueblo and on to Colorado Spring and Manitou, where we stopped for two days, then to Denver for a short time.

We then continued, going north, visiting Boulder, Longmont, Loveland and Fort Collins, Colo., where we spent a summer thirty-two years ago. From there we turned east, going to Omaha, Neb., and visited a son and family for ten days and then turned south, going to Oklahoma where our other sons lived, and our old home before coming to California. Here we spent six weeks helping take care of the big crop they had of fine quality. From there we headed for Chicago passing through Kansas City, St. Joseph, Des Moines, Iowa and to Cedar Rapids, Iowa, where we first saw the light of day in 1880.

After a short visit there we continued on to Chicago and spent about ten days along the shore of Lake Michigan, which has many beautiful homes and some fine scenery. From here we took the Yellowstone trail for Yellowstone Park, Wyoming, driving through Wisconsin then to St. Paul and Minneapolis, Minn., where we spent some time sightseeing and boat riding on Lake Minnetonka. From here we kept directly west through Minnesota and the Dakotas with their vast fields of wheat and fine farms, and then into Montana, passing thru Miles City, a fine little city in a good valley; at a little place called Custer we left the trail going up into Montana to visit a brother of Mrs. Berry's a short time, coming back by way of Round Up to Billings, Montana, where we again took up the trail to Livingston where we turned south to Gardner, the northern entrance to the Yellowstone National Park, where we entered the park and met friends from St. Anthony, Idaho. We spent four days in the park seeing its wonders and fine scenery, coming out at the west entrance of Yellowstone, we stopped in St. Anthony, Idaho, with our friends a short time and then drove down to Salt Lake City. Here we took the Lincoln highway to Ely, Nevada, across the desert 285 miles without a railroad. At Ely we saw the biggest copper mine in the world and running full blast; from here we took the Midland trail to Tonopah, 190 miles more of desert and without a railroad; then down to Goldfield twenty-six miles; then turned west over some very high mountains to Big Pine, Cal. From Big Pine we journeyed south along the Owens river, passed Owens lake and spent our last night out at Indian Wells on the Mojave desert; then to Mojave, coming by way of Elizabeth Lake and Bouquet canyon home.

We had a most enjoyable trip with no accidents, only a broken leaf in our springs at two different times and very little tire trouble, coming all the way from Chicago without a puncture only one blowout and that when we almost had reached home. Our little Buick behaved fine and gave us no trouble worth mentioning. We have driven it into 20 different states since the 20th of last September and it never has failed us under any circumstances. We never felt more like singing "I Love You, California" than we did when we reached home after an absence of almost four months. Yours very truly,

MORE SMALL ARMS FOR EXPEDITIONARY FORCES; PRODUCTION COST DROPS

German timidity before American pistol fighters armed with American .45 caliber automatic pistols has brought about a change in the equipment of the American Expeditionary Forces by the war department, and the ordnance department is rushing production of these weapons. About 3000 are turned out daily and production is increasing. The impression exists that a shot from an American .45 takes a man out of action completely. Men hit from the smaller German pistols frequently continue in action effectively. The .45 caliber was adopted by the United States army in 1911.

Despite the heavy increased demand for these pistols the ammunition branch of the ordnance department has effected a saving during the past two calendar months of nearly $2,000,000, mostly on small arms ammunition, such as .45 caliber ball cartridges, .30 shells, and on clips and bandoleers.

The total savings by the ordnance department for these two months through salvage, waste prevention, and the utilization or sale of discarded materials have aggregated $8,757,025. Cost of Vickers machine guns has been reduced $322.25 each; Colt machine guns, $284.16 each; Lewis machine guns, $22 each. Government rifles now cost $22 each, a reduction of $13 each.

CITRUS CANKER CONQUERED

Citrus canker has been fully conquered in Florida according to the Florida Grower.

Citrus canker is the most devastating disease to which the citrus family is subject and thousands of dollars have been expended in fighting it in the Gulf states during the past several years. Its cause for a long time was a mystery and only a very rigorous treatment was successful in keeping it in check, the infected trees being burned out as they stood in the orchard by the use of a special gasoline torch.

The Whittier News predicts that walnuts will reach the record price of 30 cents a pound this year. However, it is pointed out that owing to labor shortage and a smaller crop, the grower will not realize much more than in a normal year.

A new citrus by-products company has been organized at Whittier by C. F. Day and R. M. Russell for the manufacture of citric acid. They propose to use the dehydration process. Their plant is located on West Philadelphia street. The plan is to make tartaric acid later.

California canners have been notified by the federal food administration of restrictions in selling preserved fruits for soda fountain and ice cream manufacture.

The Redlands Facts refers to the women whom they now think it will be necessary to employ in picking the oranges the coming season as "pickerettes."

JUST THE MAN

A professional strong man, a performer in vaudeville, was a passenger on a train from Chicago to New York and had occasion to go into the day coach. There he was accosted by an eccentric looking person, who said:

"Pardon me, sir, but aer you not the strong man?"

"Some say I am," was the good-natured response.

"You can lift three tons in harness?"

"That's my record."

"You can hold two hundredweight at arm's length?"

"Yes."

"And put up three hundred pounds with one hand?"

"Yes."

"And six hundred with two?"

"I can."

"In that case," continued the eccentric looking person, "will you be so good as to undertake to raise this car window for me?"

SUPPLY PERSONAL BELONGINGS

In the confusion of battle, troops often lose their entire personal belongings. This is invariably the case when men are sent to hospitals. The Red Cross supplies these articles to the soldiers, so that none has to be without comb, toothbrush, razor, mirror, handkerchief, or other toilet articles necessary to cleanliness and decent grooming.

telle compared to the last sentence now incorporated into the proposed constitutional amendment, which reads as follows:

"The provisions of this section SHALL NOT BE CONTROLLED OR LIMITED by any other provision of this constitution, except the provisions thereof, relating to the passage and approval of facts by the legislature, and to the referendum thereof."

Mr. F. A. Knight, a well-known attorney of this state, who has given considerable study to this proposed amendment, states: "In this closing sentence we find the attempt to slip into that constitutional amendment a clause which would give a power beyond anything ever dreamed of in constitutional tinkering." Also, "In one of the numerous amendments of the constitution of the state of California, or of the United States, has so destructive a clause been inserted as that which winds up the proposed social insurance amendment. It with one bold stroke attempts to wipe out the basic law of the state of California as set forth in the constitution of this state and places the people of this state in the hands of a legislative commission. Wage-earners, employers of labor, and taxpayers would surrender all rights guaranteed in the constitution as far as they come in conflict with the desires of the social insurance commission and the state legislature."

What is our state constitution but the anchor of our hopes, a protection against tyranny and oppression, against any encroachment upon individual rights? If this pernicious and obnoxious compulsory insurance amendment cannot be controlled or limited by any other provision of our constitution, then it is evident that if put in force it could at one fell swoop be both the accuser and court of last resort. It could deprive us of our bill of rights under the constitution including in part the following: Writ of habeas corpus, permission to give bail, the right of trial by jury, freedom of speech and press, the right to freely assemble together to consult for the common good, to instruct representatives, and to petition the legislature for redress of grievances, etc.

Our school system could be made a clinic or experimental station for the exploitation of various health theories. Officials of the social insurance commission could be stationed in our homes to enforce the mandates of this commission. A poll tax could be imposed upon every individual of the state to fatten the political hangers-on connected with this commission.

Voters must understand that the legislature has power now to put in operation any reasonable system of health insurance. The hidden scheme of the proposed constitutional amendment is to equip the legislature and the social insurance commission with unlimited authority in matters relating to health insurance, and to infringe upon the rights of individuals—in other words, to break the government of Principle, "Live and let live," and to establish the German slogan, "The state can do no harm," and "Might is right."

At the general election in November Vote NO on this proposed constitutional amendment, which will appear on the ballot as No. 20, and thereby protect the constitution and your own pocketbook.
